

An ideal student for Kyushu Dental College based on its admission policy is as follows. A student who...

- 1...has a fecund humanity and communication ability, and is able to understand emotions of others.
- 2...is interested in dental treatment and dental medicine, and is also eager to cope with up-to-date problems of one's own accord.
- 3...has an accurate sense of object for dental treatment and dental medicine, and can maintain one's will to study through life.
- 4...has a definite desire as a dentist to contribute to the international society, and also to the promotion of health of the nation.